Date: July 27, 2010

Cooperative Educational Services (CES) has received the following questions regarding RFP 2011-001A, 2011-001B and 2011-001C by mail, e-mail, or fax. Please accept the following as responses to the questions submitted.

Question 1:

The way the documentation and responses are set up it appears that CES is considering these 3 separate RFPs and that they need to be responded to separately - each having their own binders with tabs 1-10 (separate executive summary, forms, etc). Is this correct?

Response 1:

Yes, that is correct. Each of the RFPs will need to have a separate response and binder. In the case that you are responding to more than one category or lot in any one of the RFPs, you can sub-tab your response for any of the tabs as needed. Each of the RFPs that a proposer is responding too, will need to have separate electronic submission in the tab format as outline in the RFP.

Question2:

If the answer to the first question is yes, then are we required to get 3 separate $25,000.00 bid bonds if we respond to something in each bid?

Response 2:

In the case that an Offeror is responding to one or more of the RFPs, CES will require only one bid bond for $25,000.00. The Offeror will need to indentify on their bid bond to which RFPs the bid bond applies. When responding to more than one RFP, the Offeror will need to reference which RFP has the original bid bond and a copy of the original bid bond need to be submitted with other RFP responses
