Recognizing and Supporting Twice-Exceptional Learners

Tuesday, September 29, 2026

8:30 – 10:30 AM or 11:00 AM – 1:00 PM or 1:30 – 3:30 PM

Presented by Dr. Neily Snook, NBCT - TAP Consultant

Twice-exceptional (2e) learners often do not fit the traditional picture of either giftedness or disability. Their strengths may hide areas of need, while their challenges can make their exceptional potential difficult to recognize. As a result, many students are misunderstood, under identified, or underserved.

Topics included in the training:

- Understanding the complex profiles of twice-exceptional (2e) learners
- Evidence-based identification and educational planning
- Strength-based instruction and support strategies
- Removing barriers while nurturing student potential
- Building learning environments where twice-exceptional students thrive

This training is applicable to General, Special, & Gifted Education, and other interested staff.
