Programming for Students with an Emotional Disturbance
Presented by David D' Antonio

Wednesday, January 23, 2019
All Day, 8:30-3:30

We will discuss the important concepts in designing an environment to meet the needs of emotional disturbed students. Topics include:

- Structuring the environment for success
- Designing a behavior management system to increase prosocial behaviors
- Ideas for teaching these prosocial skills
- Tips for positive teacher-student interactions
- Programming for the individual student

Be prepared to apply these strategies in a number of hands-on activities. Time will also be given to apply these concepts to a current student with which you work.

Due to limited seating, if you pre-register and cannot attend PLEASE notify Loretta Garcia via email in advance, lgarcia@ces.org
