The Effective Classroom

Presented by Barbara Piper, Special Educator & Consultant

All Day Thursday, February 21, 2019

How DO you create a learning environment that supports student engagement in learning? How DO you address the academic and behavior challenges students present? Interested in learning skills to DO that?

Participation in this full-day interactive training provides an opportunity to learn and experience:

- a 4-component framework for effective classroom management
- educational behavior principles
- instructional strategies to engage students in learning

This training is an interactive full-day training designed for all educators. Participants will learn session content as well as multiple instructional strategies that can be implemented in teaching any course content. Yes...something you can use in the classroom tomorrow!!
