Start the new school year off right, the time is now to sharpen your knowledge of best practice behavioral preventative strategies. This virtual webinar will increase your knowledge of why challenging behaviors occur. We will explore fun, easy to implement preventative strategies to make your teaching experiences enjoyable. During this webinar, attendees will receive an interactive notebook that includes key notes, links and resource to all to their behavior toolbox. In this webinar, you will:

Explore the origins of behavior. Review and refresh your knowledge on the physiology of our response to stress, the fight, flight, freeze response. Learn what the difference is between trauma and toxic stress.

Discover how to implement fun self-regulation activities into everyday routines to increase learning and decrease daily stressors for all.

Design a Zen space and procedures for processing difficult emotions.

Learn how to design your classroom environment with a positive reinforcement system.
